Early races Few challengers so far in Granite

GRANITE CITY — All the incumbent city officials up for re-election in April have picked up their nomination petitions, but so far only four have opponents, according to City Clerk Robert Stevens.

Filing opens Jan. 14, but candidates have until Jan. 21, the final day of filing, to circulate petitions. A street superintendent and seven aldermen, one from each ward, will be elected in April.

Clayton "Jug" Harrison, a long-time street department employee, has picked up petitions to run against his boss, Mae Warfield.

Harrison ran unsuccessfully for street superintendent in 1971 and 1979 against then-Street Superintendent Lionel Portell.

Warfield, who ran unsuccessfully against Portell in 1975, was appointed to the position in 1982 and was unopposed in 1983 and 1987. Warfield ran unsuccessfully for mayor in 1985 and 1989.

In the 1st Ward, Juanita Crawley picked up petitions to run against Frank Scarsdale. Crawley ran for the position in 1987, losing to the late Everett "Cherry Picker" Morlen by three votes.

Scarsdale, facing his first election, was appointed in 1989 by Mayor Von Dee Cruise to finish Morlen's term.

In the 2nd Ward, Jim Miller is still unopposed.

In the 3rd Ward, John Boyne has picked up petitions to run against Paul Fisk.

In the 4th, 5th and 6th Wards, Dan Partney, Lloyd Bailey and Walter Milton are still unopposed.

In the 7th Ward, Mark Eavenson has picked up petitions to run against Emerald Dawes. Eavenson is now secretary of the Granite City School Board and Stevens said Eavenson was looking into whether being a member of both is a conflict of interest.

2nd JB Bridge span to open

The span will open more than six months ahead of schedule.

"If we don't have an earthquake," said Richard Eichorst, executive director of the Oakville-Mehlville-Concord (Mo.) Chamber of Commerce. The chamber will sponsor the ceremony.

Flood sentence delayed pending appeal

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

EAST ST. LOUIS — Granite City real estate broker Gaye Flood will stay out of prison for at least another month and a half.

Flood, who was convicted Aug. 6 on seven federal felony counts, was scheduled to begin serving a year and a day sentence on Dec. 20, but U.S. District Judge William Stiehl granted a stay of service last week until Jan. 10.

Flood's attorney, Patrick Mathis of Belleville, said Stiehl granted the stay after a notice of appeal in the Flood case was filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit in Chicago. A jury found Flood guilty of one count of conspiracy to defraud the federal government and six counts of making false statements on applications for federally-insured loans.

Mathis said he had no idea when the appeal would be heard, but said he "would assume it will move in the same slow pace appeals usually do."

Flood, who steadfastly maintains her innocence, continues to work as a real estate agent, according

Police auction to get rid of years of unclaimed goods

GRANITE CITY — For the first time in more than 20 years, the police department will auction unclaimed property.

The auction will be held at 9 a.m. Dec. 15 in the former Central Bank building in the 1900 block of Edison Avenue. All proceeds from the auction will go to the Granite City Drug Abuse Resistance Education program.

Items to be auctioned include bicycles, video cassette recorders, televisions, tools, an outboard motor for a boat and a number of other items, according to Police Chief Don Knight. He said the items will be available for viewing from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Dec. 14.

Knight said this is the first auction of unclaimed items since he joined the police force more than 20 years ago.

In addition to the unclaimed items from the Police Department, Knight said the Granite City School District has donated items such as desks and chairs that will be auctioned. He said several local businesses will also be donating items to the auction.

Unclaimed property has become a major storage problem for the city, which has been stacking goods in several buildings for many years.

Shimkus to take office Monday

EDWARDSVILLE — John Shimkus of Collinsville will be sworn in Monday morning as Madison County treasurer, becoming the first Republican to hold countywide office since Dan Weber's term as state's attorney ended in 1984.

Shimkus and Democrats Evelyn Bowles and Bob Churchill, unopposed for re-election as county clerk and sheriff, respectively, will be sworn in during ceremonies at 9 a.m. in courtroom 2 of the county courthouse.

Chief Circuit Judge Charles Romani will preside. County Board members will be sworn in by Bowles during the board's organizational meeting at 9:30 a.m.

Democrats Nick Byron, Phillip Kardin and Edward Ferguson will take the oath of office as circuit judges at 11 a.m. from Illinois Supreme Court Judge Horace Calvo.

Harry A. Briggs, Granite City, who was re-elected as Madison County regional superintendent of schools, doesn't begin his new term until August.

with the possibility of parole after serving one-third of that term.

Five of the six false-statement counts found she induced Orwig to write a false statement on a 1994 application for FHA-insured loans made through Delmar Financial Co. in Clayton for purchase in 1984 of apartment buildings at 3916, 3924, 4052, and 4060 Oakmont Drive in Pontoon Beach and an FHA-insured loan made in 1984 through Lomas and Nettleton Co. of Granite City for a house at 2617 Pine St. in Granite City.

Stiehl sentenced Flood to one year and one day to run concurrently, on each of those five counts of making false statements.

The other false-statement count found she induced Orwig to write a false statement on a 1994 application for a VA loan to cover up the fact he had borrowed the down payment from his employer for a house at 22 Victoria Drive in Pontoon Beach.

On that count, Stiehl suspended sentence and ordered Flood to serve five years of probation, to begin following her release from prison.

Madison tax levy to drop

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

MADISON — Residents can expect the city portion of their property taxes to drop by about 20 percent based on the 1990 tax levy, according to Mayor John Belcoff.

The $318,384 levy, approved by the aldermen Tuesday, represents a 19 percent reduction from the 1989 city levy of $392,595. No taxes are levied for the general corporate fund.

The 1990 levies for special funds, with the 1989 levies in parentheses, are:

Police protection — $23,995 ($21,357).
Street and buildings — $15,997 ($14,238).
Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund and Federal Social Security — $100,000 ($90,000).
Liability insurance — $115,000 (same).
Library — $14,397 ($13,500).

Police pension fund — $25,000 (none).

In 1989, taxes of $40,000 were levied to pay a legal judgment against the city.

The 1990-91 city budget is $2,519,183 compared to $2,404,678 last year. The new budget lists more than $200,000 for capital improvements, including $45,000 for fire equipment and $40,000 for police equipment.

The general fund expects revenues of $2,200,799 from sales tax, utility tax, state

Cencom says viewers satisfied

By Letitia Harrison
Staff writer

MARYVILLE — Officials at Cencom Cable Television say that if subscribers are complaining, they aren't complaining to Cencom.

Kathy Smith, manager of the Illinois headquarters in Maryville, said Tuesday, "I don't feel that there are a lot of concerned customers out here who aren't being taken care of."

"Otherwise, we'd hear it," she said.

"If there's a problem, we're here to rectify it," she said. "We really do listen to our customers' requests."

"Cencom officials also said speculation that the company may be moving its headquarters to St. Louis from Maryville is unfounded."

System manager Dave Miller said, "It's physically impossible."

Miller said that, to send cable signals across the area that it serves, the company has to be located in Maryville. He said it would be impossible to send signals to this area from Missouri.

Criticism of the company has centered around service. Some subscribers have complained about interference with the television signal, saying there are problems even when there are no adverse weather conditions.

But Smith and Miller say the local office has been receiving only positive feedback from customers.

Smith said, "They have nothing but good things to say."

Smith, Miller and Jim Bogart, manager of governmental and public affairs, said customer service is a priority.

"The future of cable is customer service," Bogart said.

They said the company provides cross-training to its customer service representatives, teaching them how to repair, service and install equipment.

Cencom serves its subscribers more efficiently than many other businesses in the service industry, officials said.

Miller said, "We've tried to make some strides here in customer service."

"We're very concerned with the image of customer service," he added.

Smith said customers know they can voice complaints to the cable commission, based in Edwardsville, but usually don't.

"They don't feel that they have to go to any type of official to get something done," Smith said.

The commission is composed of residents in the Cencom area appointed by local councils.

Bogart said the company is planning to expand its customer service hours, which already include hours on Saturday.

The repair phone line is manned 24 hours a day, seven days a week, year round.

Repairs are scheduled in two-hour blocks to give customers a better idea as to when a repairman will be available.

For example, a customer in need of a repair or installation is given a two-hour time frame in which a service representative will come out.

Miller said, "There aren't many service industries that'll do that."

He said that about 60 percent of the service calls require same-day service, "which is an indication people aren't having a lot of problems."

Smith said the company provides free service calls and replaces bad equipment, "no questions asked."

"In that, we're unique," she said.

The Maryville office services several surrounding communities, including the Quad City area.

Collinsville, Caseyville, Troy, Edwardsville, Glen Carbon, Highland, St. Jacob and Marine.

Drives without tire; faces three charges

Receiving a report of a motorist driving on a tireless wheel rim, officers checked and found the alleged driver, Michael D. Parker, 32, at his residence in the 2200 block of East 23rd Street.

A 1988 Mercury was parked at the home with the headlights on, a tire missing on the driver's side and the wheel ground flat.

Parker allegedly cursed when questioned, and told officers to get off his porch. He was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

He was later charged with driving while his license was suspended, improper registration (wrong plates) and operating a vehicle with improper tire equipment.

A witness identified the car as one that had passed his vehicle at Madison Avenue and 20th Street.

Seek toys for tots

GRANITE CITY — This holiday season, Coldwell Banker Star Realtors is joining forces with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve in its local Toys for Tots campaign.

The annual program is designed to provide holiday joy for needy children through the collection and distribution of new, unwrapped toys.

Coldwell Banker Star Realtors will serve as the official collection center through the month of December.

Founded in 1947, Toys for Tots has evolved from a small Los Angeles-area project to a nationwide annual campaign.

"For many children, the magic of the holiday season is only a dream," said Carolyn Bunselmeier, sales agent for Coldwell Banker. "We're hoping to make those holiday dreams come true in a real way by collecting toys for children who otherwise would go without them."

According to Bunselmeier, the project coordinator, Quad City area residents who would like to contribute, but are unable to visit a collection center, may contact Coldwell Banker and a sales associate will pick up the toys from them.

Members of the local U.S. Marine Corps Reserve will pick up the toys from Coldwell Banker collection centers and deliver them to area charitable organizations and social welfare agencies.

Coldwell Banker Star Realtors is located at 37014 Nameoki Road. For information, the number is 876-0024.

Soil erosion to be studied

State and county officials will host a conference, "Urban Erosion: Pathways to Solutions," on March 21 at the Holiday Inn, Collinsville.

Hosts will include the St. Clair, Madison and Monroe counties Soil and Water Conservation districts, the Association of Illinois Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The statewide conference will give developers, state and federal agencies, local governments and others who deal with urban soil erosion the opportunity to learn more about it and how various entities can work together to achieve a collective solution.

Some of the conference topics will include: "Stream Corridor Management," "Urban Stormwater Management," "Utilizing Soils Information in Urban Areas" and "Determining Soil Runoff." Discussions on the development, use and adoption of ordinances to control urban soil erosion will highlight the conference.

Those who wish more information may contact Chrystal L. Younger at 233-5583.

Gaming license losers assailed

By Dennis McMurray
Staff writer

CHICAGO — While the Alton riverboat gambling application had clear sailing at the state Gaming Board meeting Tuesday, others took direct torpedo hits from board administrator Morton Friedman and bank.

Friedman, generally credited with building tenacity in leading background investigations of applicants, was criticized publicly and privately by some for being too zealous.

Friedman made the biggest waves with his charges relating to the application for a license at East St. Louis.

He alleged Mayor Carl Officer, city corporation counsel Eric Vickers and license applicant Joe Terrell of Baton Rouge, La., had deliberately deceived the City Council into endorsing the proposal.

Friedman also charged they had used sleight of hand in negotiating access rights to a riverfront landing site to exclude other groups that had proposed a floating casino in the city.

Friedman also said information from an FBI sting operation in Louisiana and a 1981 trial involving alleged payoffs for insurance business between a state official and a Mafia boss raised other serious questions about Terrell's ethics.

Terrell, who runs several insurance-related firms, was not indicted in that case.

Officer, whose confrontational style is nationally known, told reporters he would ask Governor-elect Jim Edgar to fire board Chairman William Kunkle and Friedman.

Officer accused Friedman of Nazi-like tactics to discredit Terrell because he was the only black applicant for a license.

Officer claimed the deck was stacked in favor of rich white Republicans.

The previous week, Terrell had agreed to withdraw from the application and transfer full ownership to the other original partner, Bernard Goldstein of Davenport, Iowa. But on Monday, because of the charges raised by Friedman of "public corruption" involving the East St. Louis officials, Goldstein transferred all of his interest back to Terrell.

After Terrell's application was rejected, Goldstein said he hadn't decided whether he would make another attempt to apply for the East St. Louis license.

Goldstein had made an earlier pitch for the Alton license but dropped that in June to concentrate on the East St. Louis application.

Terrell said he was inclined to appeal the denial Tuesday but hadn't made a final decision.

If he did appeal, the process could take months, and no other applications for East St. Louis could be considered in the meantime, Kunkle said.

Terrell and the two East St. Louis officials were not the only targets of Friedman on Tuesday, however. Others included:

• John Keane, Chicago, who applied for a license at Savanna on the Mississippi River. Friedman said the investigation disclosed Keane had lied to obtain an insurance loan and justified it by saying it was the only way he could get the money.

Friedman also said Keane owed $60,000 to an accounting firm whose preliminary report he misrepresented as being final.

Keane's money problems continued Monday. The check he wrote to the board to cover background investigation expenses bounced, Friedman said.

Marvin Grinstein, who had applied for a license at Cairo but withdrew it from consideration Monday.

Friedman sarcastically referred to "spontaneous demonstrations" of several Cairo residents led by Jim Wilson at Gaming board meetings. Friedman said the investigation disclosed Grinstein made out a $1,000 personal check to Wilson, director of a Cairo housing authority.

Friedman added that Grinstein had said, "The public official asked me for the money, so I gave it to him."

Body builder competes at Lackland air base event

Maxine Duniphan covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 931-2714.

John Breckner of English Place was a competitor in the Level 3 U.S. Body Building competition, sponsored by the National Physique Committee's Greater Lackland Classic (NPC) held on Nov. 15.

The event was staged in the Bob Hope Theater at Lackland Air Force, near San Antonio, Texas.

Breckner placed third in the heavyweight division, which now qualifies him for Level 2 competition.

Breckner is an avid body builder and follows a regimen diet and works out every day at the Spartan Health Spa in Ponce de Leon.

Several area couples traveled to Ponce de Leon, Mo., over the weekend to share Thanksgiving Day dinner with relatives at the home of Lillian Carver, the senior family member.

Those making the trip included Jack and Lucy Colbert, Clifford and Maxine Duniphan, Jim and Theresa Kelley and daughter, Jennifer, Tom and Nancy Colbert and daughters, Shelly and Mendy, and Ed Colbert, all of Mitchell; Jeff and Missy Hickman of Madison; and Angie and Sharon Mantia and children, Heather, Tony and Gina, of Collinsville.

Also attending were relatives from St. Louis, Springfield, Kansas City, Kan., and Steelville, Wappapello, McGee, Dexter and Advance, all in Missouri.

The group enjoyed a bountiful dinner, picture taking, games and visiting. They also butchered a hog the old fashioned way, making mincemeat and rendering lard.

Many in the group stayed over until Friday for a surprise house warming for Jerry Carver, who had a new log home built on the old homestead location.

Mabelle Dillman of Guth Place is home from Christian Hospital Northeast in St. Louis County. She is recovering from pneumonia.

Carmen Breckner of English Place spent the evening of Thanksgiving Day at the St. Louis Lambert Airport visiting with her son, Air Force Major Harvey Breckner, Breckner, a doctor of prosthodontics at Lackland

Air Force, Texas, was en route to San Antonio from Detroit, where he had attended a dental seminar, and had a lengthy layover at the St. Louis airport. He'd expected to see his mother there, but was surprised when his sisters and their families also came to see him.

Family members there included Francis Richardson and her daughters, Carmen and Miranda, Adele Petroski and her husband, Jim, with their sons, Shawn, Ryan and James, and Claudia Eddens and her husband, Michael. Also there was Breckner's goddaughter, Kristen Nicole Daugherty.

Mitchell School pupils receive ing "Student of the Week" honors for the week of Nov. 12 were Jeffrey Caudle, a kindergarten pupil, and Frank Hinkle, a first grade student. Both are resource students in Mary Lou Hudson's class and were recognized for their progress in mastering basic and self-starting skills.

Also receiving "Student of the Week" honors for Nov. 12 were Kenneth Fedak, John Siner and Clayton Warren, all fifth grade students in Donna Skirball's resource class, who were recognized for their outstanding scores on mastery activities.

Winning students can be recognized by the green award button they wear.

Students at St. Elizabeth's School enjoy Slavic Festival

St. Elizabeth's School's sixth grades enjoyed a Slavic Festival on Nov. 15.

Violet Stimac, dressed in a handmade traditional costume from Yugoslavia, discussed her travels to that country. Photographs and handwork of Yugoslavia were also displayed.

Linda Lusieic, Ann Lusieic and Eleanor Eares taught the class two traditional Slavic dances. Lusieic is a former performer and instructor with the Tamburitzas, a Croatian cultural organization.

Busy Bee Bakery donated poppy seed rolls and nut rolls, two traditional Slavic pastries.

World travelers are scheduled to visit the sixth grades throughout the school year. The speakers are an addition to the regular world geography course.

Every continent, including Antarctica, will be represented by a traveler-speaker this year.

The sixth-grade teachers are Tommie Stimac and Bernadette Denker.

Joella Reed, the music teacher, is teaching folk songs to enhance the study of European cultures this quarter.

Clowns give pupils a happy message

Two very happy clowns, Kuku (Ann Schreiber) and Yoyo (Yvonne Halleman) came to Marshall School recently to present a substance abuse program to kindergarten through fourth grad students.

CLOWN (Children Learn Other Ways Naturally) gives correct information about alcohol and other drugs. It is presented by prevention specialists from Piasa Health Care.

The program is designed to enforce positive development of attitudes and behaviors in students. It enhances a positive self-concept, exploration of alternatives, and positive ways of dealing with feelings.

Two 30-minute programs were given on Oct. 24. Students especially liked Kuku and Yoyo.

"The actual cost of this program is $100, but upon request, Piasa provided supplementary funds from other sources. We are appreciative of this financial assistance," said Principal Goni Michaeloff. "CLOWN with Kuku and Yoyo is a terrific program that has positive impact upon a young audience."

Locals in program from area college

Sixty-eight Belleville Area College students recently were named to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges.

The students were recognized for academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potential for continued success.

Students named from BAC include:

Granite City: Constance Barnhart, Marilyn Boner, Carole Edgington, Myra Polston, Michelle Scott

School

Class takes trip to Cahokia Mounds

Early Childhood Class members from Harris School, Madison, accompanied by their teacher, Tina Buckingham, paid a visit to the Cahokia Mounds Museum.

They included: Allen Carter, Jerry Morgan, Jeffery Bickel, Nick Rupert, Jeremiah Polk, Zachary Judkins, Kelvin Boyd, Tim Taylor, Shayla Bush and Joshua Austin.

Teacher honored for fire safety

The Mitchell Fire Department awarded Dorina Knight, kindergarten teacher at Mitchell School, with its 1990 Fire Prevention Award during an assembly at the school on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 15.

Knight is the teacher that taught James Byrd the methods that he successfully used in evacuating his family from a fire on Cleveland Avenue in Granite City in September. That fire killed two members of another family.

James is now a first-grader attending Mitchell School following his return to the school after the fire.

Knight annually teaches her classes the proper procedures to follow in the event of the fire. A visit to the Mitchell Fire Department during Fire Prevention Week is part of the program in promoting and teaching fire safety.

Knight is the faculty representative on the Mitchell School PTA and writes the weekly News-n-Notes school letter.

GC debaters win tourney

The Granite City debate team traveled to Rich East High School in Park Forest, Ill., last month and brought home the championship for the second time this year.

Four varsity debaters entered the tournament and for the second time all four broke to quarterfinals. They were Robert Proffitt, Erin Rotter, Ricardo Davis and Chris Hill. Chris Hill, Erin Rotter and Ricardo Davis all advanced to semi-finals.

Davis and Rotter won their semi-final rounds, closing out the tournament, and making a final round unnecessary. Davis and Rotter were co-champions of the Rich East Tournament.

Two debaters entered the novice division: Tom Cromer and Joanna Webb. Both Cromer and Webb were four wins and two losses.

Altogether the team had 27 wins and eight losses at Rich East.

Ron Pennell, debate coach, traveled with the team and worked in the tabulation room at the tournament.

Earlier the debate team traveled to Illinois State University for the second debate tournament of this season. Four debaters participated: Chris Hill, Ricardo Davis, Robert Proffitt, and Erin Rotter.

After five rounds of preliminary competition, it was announced that all four debaters were quarterfinalists, that Robert Proffitt was the fifth-place speaker plaque winner, Chris Hill was the fourth-place plaque winner, Ricardo Davis was the second-place speaker.

and Erin Rotter was the top speaker plaque winner.

Then, after quarterfinals, Rotter, Hill, and Davis won to become semifinalists. Rotter and Davis were bracketed against each other — they did not debate. They were both five wins and zero losses. Rotter had 132 speaker points and Davis had 130. When Hill lost in semifinals, Rotter was selected to debate for the tournament championship. She defeated Carbondale on a three-zero decision to become the 1990 ISU Tournament Champion. Ron Pennell, department chairman of speech and theatre, is the debate coach.

Ricardo Davis is a blind debater who writes with a Braille.

CHECKING TURBINE: Jesus Fernandez of Granite City helps Shawn Farmer of Fairview Heights with a turbine engine in an aviation maintenance class at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College. Students take the engines apart and reassemble them.

BURGERS, FRIES & NEON LIGHTS

A COMMENTARY

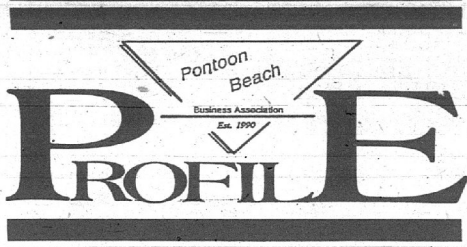

If this is your image of today's restaurants, do yourself a favor and stop by Ridgeway's.

Sure, we'll admit it - we're different. We still offer delicious daily specials, dozens of tasty and unusual sandwiches and diners and, of course, delectable angel cream desserts. Plus, we smile.

We know that this type of attitude is a bit old fashioned, but then again we don't have a great big neon sign either.

Bigger, Better Breese Bikes

By Leonard Woolsey

Clip and save this photo. "The little blue building that could" is about to disappear. Behind it rests the new, larger Breese Bike shop. And Pat is happy.

Patrick Breese is the Breese of Breese Bikes. For over 11 years, he has operated one of the most unusual bicycle shops you'll ever see foot in. And he now needs more room. Why?

"Did you ever try to live out of your kitchen?" Pat wryly responded.

Actually, the successful growth of his business has demanded he expand his building. Repair may be the specialty, but the showroom space was a big cramped in "little blue." Breese Bikes carries GT, Shasta, and other special bicycle lines that you won't find in every bike shop.

Asked why did he choose bicycle repair, Pat, with a straight face, said, "I blame my dad." It seems that he'd only show Pat how to repair something one time, and then Pat was on his own. Pat learned so well that he now has regular customers that drive from St. Louis, Alton and all over the Metro-East for his detail-oriented repair work.

"It seems silly to have a bike that comes in with a loose kick stand, and then let it leave with one," Pat said.

The repair work is shared by Pat and "Big John" (John Kramer). John, who sports a blond Mohawk, is also a professional wrestler. He's learning the trade from Pat's advice.

"Service is the key—if you treat people right, they'll remember you," Pat said. "I've had repeat customers since the day I opened."

Although the days are numbered for the little blue building, Breese Bikes seems destined to be a part of Pontoon Beach for years to come.

"D.Q. in P.B."

By Leonard Woolsey

Legend has it that there is something special about those born on February 29—the leap year. Charlie and June Bernaix certainly believe that their Dairy Queen is special.

It's been almost 3 years since that February 29th that the Bernaixes put their names to the ownership papers of the Pontoon Dairy Queen.

"We were looking for a nice business and area to be in," Bernaix said.

The Bernaixes' Dairy Queen, 3801 Pontoon Road, is not your typical Dairy Queen. It is what the company designates a "Brazilian Store," a top of the line model that's more like a restaurant than an ice cream store. Brazilian units are equipped with a full menu of food items; everything from child dogs to cheese fries are all prepared fresh to order. And the menu is still growing.

"We're looking to introduce a new healthful, low-calorie grilled chicken sandwich very soon," Charlie said.

This summer the Bernaixes celebrated the grand re-opening of their restaurant after major remodeling of the entire store. A new, contemporary interior greets customers as they enter. The mauve and blue color treatment offers a very cheerful atmosphere. "Why they've moved this all around," said an older man in a blue jumpsuit as he searched for the long-gone service counter.

Asked about the future of the community, Charlie said, "Pontoon is where you can expect a strong steady growth."

The Bernaixes have seen a lot of changes in Pontoon and expect to see many more before the celebration of their Dairy Queen's first birthday—1992.

Eagles Auxiliary planning events

Plans for various activities in December were reviewed at a recent Eagles Auxiliary meeting at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave.

The charter was draped in memory of Mary Veres and Frances Pasick. Both were auxiliary members who died within the past month.

Taking part in the memorial service were Ruth Jorgensen, president; Florence Stokes, junior past president; Del Delaney, vice president; Joanna Spencer, chaplain; and Yvonne Gray, conductor.

Jorgensen opened the session and Gray presented the flag and placed the Bible and the motherhead on the altar.

Secretary Vincine Zerlan read the names of eight new applicants and these were referred to Florence Hagauer, Investigating Committee chairman. Balloting was held for 12 new candidates whose applications already were approved.

A letter from Verna Funke, state auxiliary supervisor, advised that Carol Inge, state auxiliary secretary, will be a guest of the local auxiliary for Appreciation Weekend in January.

Jeanne Burton, Eagle Education chairwoman, summarized the recent craft show and thanked the members who helped. Barb Modrusick, State Project chairman, reported on the success of the variety show. "A: My name is Alice," and expressed appreciation to those who assisted.

Hagauer will serve as chairman of Appreciation Weekend, scheduled on Jan. 12-20, 1991. She named chairmen and co-chairmen for various activities and discussed proposed events.

A Thanksgiving dinner was held at the Eagles Home on Nov. 22, it was reported.

The annual Christmas party for auxiliary members will include a potluck dinner on Tuesday, Dec. 11, starting at 6:30 p.m. The meat will be furnished by the auxiliary. A $5 gift exchange is planned.

A Christmas party for adults also will take place at the Eagles Home on Dec. 16 and a children's party will be held on Dec. 23, beginning at 2 p.m.

Good of the Auxiliary prizes were won by Elvira Clas and Judy Weatherford. Refreshments were served by Vera Johnson, Millie and Judy Weatherford, Clas and Dorothy Landred.

Nameoki United Methodist Women's program held

Mary Benson gave devotions on "Forming a Habit of Being Grateful" and read Scripture concerning Thanksgiving at a general meeting of the United Methodist Women of Nameoki Methodist Church.

The group met on Nov. 12 at the church, located at 1900 Pontoon Road. President Millie Clements opened with prayer. Diane Baker presented the program, entitled "Freely You Received, Freely Give."

Plans were announced for United Methodist Women Sunday. Speaker will be Mary Renfro, a retired teacher from Lebanon. Renfro has served in UMW offices on the local, district and conference levels and as a delegate to UMW General and Jurisdictional conferences.

She currently serves as chairman of the East St. Louis District Council on Ministries and is a member of the Jurisdictional Council on Ministries.

Cloverview studies nature of log homes

Cloverview Garden Club met at Ravanelli's Restaurant with Carolyn Stearns as hostess. President Lu Babor led the group in reciting the club collect.

Members responded to roll call by completing the phrase: "I like trees because..." The Show and Tell exhibit, "Bark From Your Favorite Tree," produced displays of pin oak, Bradford pear, sassafras and soft maple. There were also many varieties of fall leaves.

After the meeting, the members went as a group to deliver handmade lap robes to Connie Martin, activities director at Colonial Care Center, for use by patients.

Cecil Johnson and Marge O'Neill took a chrysanthemum plant to the Granite City Branch Library to add to an established flower bed there. They also reported weeding the flower bed at Lake Elementary School.

Veronica Williamson announced plans for the club's Christmas party to be held at Rizzo's East in Madison on Dec. 11. In addition to a gift exchange, canned goods and staple items will be collected for a needy family.

The study for the day was "Log Home Living" given by O'Neill. She remarked that in times past one's thoughts went back to the early settlers in this country who built rustic homes in the wilderness.

Today, log homes are nothing like the crude cabins built by these pioneers more than a century ago. Back then, settlers welded axes and a few simple tools to fell trees and fit them together as best they could. O'Neill said.

Modern log homes usually consist of pre-cut components, including precisely milled logs, sometimes with tongue and grooves that interlock along their lengths.

Builders further seal against drafts and seepage with caulking or foam gaskets between logs. This means that when you purchase a log-home kit, you are buying a package that will remain snug and weathertight for a lifetime, the speaker said. Styling tends to the traditional but manufacturers offer hundreds of designs.

On tests conducted it has been indicated that log homes seem to suffer less fire damage than conventional stud-wall homes, and because they burn slowly occupants have more time to get out safely. Decay and termites can affect a log home just as they can damage any other home, O'Neill said. That's why manufacturers urge that prior to assembly the logs be treated with preservatives, which should be applied again every two or three years.

Although log homes first became popular as weekend and vacation retreats, increasing numbers of families are building comfortable, full-size solid wood homes for year around living, with all the charm and luxury of casual living, plus all modern conveniences, O'Neill said.

Discussion on the study followed. Members participating, in addition to those mentioned, were: Marlene Brokaw, Lois Cruse, Lucille Etheridge, Ruth Knapp, Louise Sedlack and Irma Taylor.

Christmas remembrance planned for Vietnam MIAs

SPRINGFIELD — The 99 Illinois soldiers still listed as prisoners of war or missing in action in Southeast Asia will be remembered at a special ceremony Saturday, Dec. 8, at 1 p.m. at the Illinois Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Springfield's Oak Ridge Cemetery.

During the Third Annual Christmas Remembrance, handmade red and white heart-shaped ornaments will be hung by family and friends on the eight-foot blue spruce planted by the Memorial specifically for this purpose. Each ornament bears the name of one of the 99

Illinois POWs or MIAs.

There will also be five cut Christmas trees in each of the Memorial's courtyards, and members of the general public may bring a weatherproof ornament to hang on these trees.

The Christmas Remembrance is co-sponsored by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, which administers the Illinois Vietnam Veterans Memorial, and the National League of Families of American Prisoners Missing in Southeast Asia. Ivan and Betty Wiley of Decatur, members of the National League, will speak.

JB Bridge

Even if the worst happens, the bridge should remain standing.

"It's designed in accordance with the latest earthquake standards," said Fred Bartelsmeyer, assistant district engineer with the Illinois Department of Transportation. He said that construction is almost complete, except for some minor work.

Monday is the day New Mexico climatologist Ben Browning has projected as the date for a major earthquake along the New Madrid fault line.

"I'll be there," Bartelsmeyer said.

The $78 million project is a joint construction project between the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Missouri Department of Highways and Transportation. The Illinois Department administered the project.

Each state paid 5 percent of the engineering and construction costs. The old Interstate funds paid for the remaining 90 percent.

Construction on the project began in 1978. The first three-lane bridge, temporarily converted to four lanes during construction, opened in 1984.

The old bridge — "a tight two-lane bridge," Bartelsmeyer of vice president of the Granite City School Board; 100 hours of community service and pay restitution of $11,811.

Bowler had been indicted in December 1988 on four counts of making false statements, but the other three counts were dropped in return for his guilty plea and his agreement to testify against Flood.

In other action Tuesday, the City Council opened a bid of $120,450 by Banner Fire Equipment in Collinsville for a new emergency vehicle for the fire department.

Action on the bid is expected at the next council meeting, and Bellicoff told the aldermen he had already secured corporate pledges toward the purchase totaling $70,000. Because other donations may come in, he will announce the parties involved, he said.

B. Smith gets 35 as Warriors win opener

By Dave Whaley

Executive sports editor

ST. JACOB — It's hard to score 35 points quickly, but Brian Smith succeeded Friday.

The Warriors' 6-8 junior — playing without his twin brother Jeff — scored those 35 points, pulled down 20 rebounds and swatted away six shots as Granite City rolled past Triad 75-55 in the season opener for both clubs.

Unless one was keeping track closely, it seemed like Smith had more like 20 points.

"I was surprised he got that many," said Warriors coach Bill Ohlendorf. "Brian picked up the slack, which is something he didn't do when Jeff got hurt last year. But I knew he would come through. This is something we knew about for a while."

"This" is Jeff Smith is sitting out three games for disciplinary reasons imposed by the school. He'll be ready for the home opener Dec. 15 against Collinsville. That should only make the Warriors better than they were Friday, and they weren't bad at all. In addition to Brian Smith's dominance, the rest of the team ran and pressured the Knights into oblivion in the second half.

They came out and turned it on in the second half and we turned it over," said Triad coach Richard Mason. "It will take us some time. We have some guys in new positions and a guy like Steve Lynn who didn't play last year. Granite City made some mistakes, too. But when it came down to the nitty gritty they did the job on us."

GRANITE CITY 77, Triad 55

GRANITE CITY	18	14	25	16	77
TRIAD	12	17	10	12	55

GRANITE CITY: B. Smith 35 (20 rebounds, 8 blocks), Thomas 12, Birdsong 9 (5 assists, 8 steals, 1 3-pointer), Robertson 5 (7 assists, 8 steals), Terrell 7, Stephens 4 (1 3-pointer), Karblan 1, FG-33/82 (2 3-pointers), FT-9/20, PF-16.

TRIAD: Mitchell 25, Reinscher 11 (11 pointers), Aulry 8 (2 3-pointers), Lynn 5, Schenckel 4, Gibbs 2, FG-20/82 (3 3-pointers), FT-12/15, PF-16.

Bob Thomas was the only other Warrior in double figures as the senior forward connected for 12 points. But senior guards Jay Robertson and Skip Birdsong proved to be almost as effective a 1-2 punch on the court as they are on a soccer field. Robertson had seven assists and six steals to go with his nine points, while Birdsong also had nine points, with five assists and four steals thrown in.

"Halftime settled us down," said Ohlendorf. "We were over-eager in the first half and were just throwing up some bad shots. We took our time in the second half and got back better on defense."

The Warriors got the jump on the Knights at the beginning of both halves. It was 8-0 as Triad missed its first seven shots before Stu Mitchell, who led the Knights with 25 points — scored after 2:45. Granite City led 16-12 after one quarter, but Shannon Aubrey hit a pair of three-pointers in the second quarter and Mitchell hit a conventional three-point play in the final minute to give Triad a 33-30 lead at the intermission.

But the Warriors took charge quickly in the third quarter. Smith blocked three shots as Granite City went on a 13-2 run. Birdsong hit a three-pointer, then Robertson made a great pass to Smith for a layup before stealing the ball and going in for a layup of his own to make it 53-41.

"All of these kids, except for Brian, have a lot of varsity experience in other sports," said Ohlendorf. "So there was no panic at halftime. Everybody got their priorities in order and they took care of their business in the second half."

"Jay is a tremendous basketball player. He gets in a hurry at times, but that helps other parts of his game. He can penetrate, and it helps when you have someone 6-8 to dish the ball off to after you penetrate."

Triad took one mini-run at the Warriors in the fourth quarter with seven straight points — including a three-pointer by Dennis Reinacher — to make it 63-52 as the Warriors made two straight turnovers. But Jeff Stephens responded with a three-pointer and Smith followed with a basket and a free throw to end all the suspense.

Despite playing on the road, the Warriors got plenty of support from their fans, who made lots of noise.

"We appreciated that," said Ohlendorf. "The coaches and the players want to thank those kids behind us. We heard that during the game and it really helps on the road."

Claggett hits 45; Devils beat EL

By Mike Kelly

Staff writer

EAST ST. LOUIS — How good is Erwin Claggett? Just ask East St. Louis coach James Moton.

"He scored 45 points against us," Moton said. "That's how good he is. Claggett was the entire show and he made a believer out of me tonight."

The 6-2 senior was practically a one-man scoring machine in leading the Red Devils to a 75-61 victory over the Flyers on Friday in the Flyer Shootout. Claggett, who will play at St. Louis University next season, did most of his damage from long range. He made 16 of 30 shots, including six three-pointers.

That outburst was a far cry from his subpar performance against the Flyers last year.

"This was a big game for our team," said Claggett, who was held to 13 points by the Flyers in last year's meeting, an 83-54 East Side win. "They beat us up pretty good last season, but we were out to show the people something tonight. We really wanted this game. We knew there were going to be a lot of people in the stands, so we wanted to show them that Venice is for real this season."

And the Red Devils (2-0) didn't disappoint the onlookers. Venice took control from the opening tip and never looked back. Leading 4-3 with 4:10 to play in the opening quarter, the Red Devils built their cushion with a 9-1 sprint. Ironically, Claggett wasn't responsible for that opening outburst. While he struggled to find his range, Ivan Johnson (17 points and 10 rebounds) took center stage by scoring six points in the run.

"Erwin is hot and cold," Johnson said. "When he's hot, no one's going to stop him. But when he's cold, then it's my job to step in and go to work inside."

Johnson was a force by scoring nine first-quarter points, mainly on putback baskets. But that was enough to keep the Red Devils on top before Claggett came to life. After the Devils took a 21-7 lead after one quarter, Claggett buried two three-pointers from the top of the key to give Venice a 20-point lead.

The Red Devils never looked back.

The guy had nothing but confidence in his shots," Moton said. "There wasn't any way to stop him. Claggett had his mind set on scoring our guys were helpless against him."

"Coach (Clinton Harris) allows us to shoot the long-range shots because we have shooters on this team who can drill it," Claggett said. "I'm not the only guy on this team who can shoot from the outside. My double-team me, then I can pass the ball off to someone who's open and they'll nail the shot."

VENICE 75, East St. Louis 61

VENICE	21	17	16	23	75
EAST ST. LOUIS	7	18	16	20	61

VENICE: Claggett 45 (6 3-pointers, 5 assists), Johnson 17 (10 rebounds), Franklin 10 (11 rebounds), Mosby 6 (7 assists), FG-32/71 (7 3-pointers), FT-8/18, PF-12.

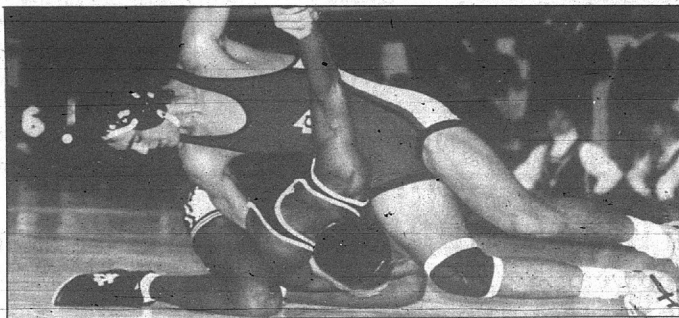

EAST ST. LOUIS: Kirschendall 14, Cannon 11, Cook 10, Brown 8, Schenckel 8, Cline 5, Sprague 3, Newbern 2, FG-24/67 (5 3-pointers), FT-8/12, PF-18.

Claggett sealed things for good in the third quarter. The (3-2) trimmed a 17-point deficit down to 49-39. But Claggett halted the comeback with a 10-point run of his own. A pair of free throws, two three-pointers and an 18-foot jumper fueled the explosion, that gave Venice a commanding 58-39 lead with seven minutes left. The lead eventually grew to 21 points and the Flyers could get no closer than 15 the rest of the way.

"This team will score its share of points," Harris said. "We ran our offense beautifully. We were aggressive on the boards, and we kept turning in the type of game we're going to need from him this year. But he wouldn't have scored 45 points without the rest of his team. This was a total team effort."

"I just concentrated on playing my game," Claggett said. "I had a previous career-high of 33 points against the Southwest last year in the Collinsville Holiday Tournament. 'I tried to do too much in our first game (a 96-63 victory over Collinsville). I talked to my mother (Anna) and she told me to relax and play my game. So I took her advice."

RUSS BUCHEK of the Warriors puts a move on his opponent.

Grapplers slip by Edwardsville

EDWARDSVILLE — The Warrior wrestling team got a good look at Edwardsville and vice versa in the opening match of the year Nov. 21. In a playoff of sorts Thursday, Granite City came out on top.

Both teams dispatched of Carbondale and Centralia in the pre-Thanksgiving get-together in Granite City, then the Warriors edged the Tigers 34-26 on Thursday. Granite City took a 3-0 record in Saturday's action.

Edwardsville always gives us a tough match," said Warriors coach Mike Garland. "We dug ourselves a little bit of a hole, but guys like Scott Simon, Jeff Heuschman and Al Willaredt picked us up."

Willaredt came through with the clincher Thursday, pinning Edwardsville's Charles Goodman at 4:55 of the heavyweight match. Granite City had a 28-9 lead, but Russ Bueche lost to a technical fall at 1:00 before Scott Wilson (171) and Marc Coster (189) suffered pinfall defeats to make it close.

The Warriors shot out to a quick lead with pins from Pat Scheffer (108) in 1:31 over Rich Welborn and Ryan King (121) in 5:21 over Jelani Johnson. Jeff Heuschman (145) also got a pin at 1:52 over Cody Moore, while Dan Hicks (130), Chris Hoffstad (135), Jeff Heuschman (140) and Simon (152) won by decision.

Chris Hass (119) and Mark McKeehan (125) lost decisions.

Scheffer, King, Hicks, Hoffstad and both Heuschmans are all undefeated so far.

"Saturday will be a good test for us," Garland said of a quad meet with Bloomington, Pekin and Peoria. "If we keep having guys pick each other up we'll stay on our winning ways."

The Warriors' only action this week will be a Southwest Conference dual meet Friday in East St. Louis.

Hall MVP as Cougars win tourney

By Al Barnes

Correspondent

EDWARDSVILLE — It's beginning to look like Larry Graham has come up with top scoring duo in a pair of games. Illinois high school champions.

Jesse Hall (Venice, 1987) and Tom Funeman (Pana, 1988) are picking each other up when Cougar opponents gang up on one or the other. Hall led SIUE with 19 points and took tournament Most Valuable Player honors as the Cougars beat McKendree 79-71 to win the Randy's Restaurant/Days Inn Classic on Wednesday.

McKendree forward Kevin Schwartz led all scorers with 30 points, but Hall took advantage of some double-teaming on Funeman to score 11 points in the first half. Maurice Rodgers scored 15, Woodrow Shivers scored 13 and Alton freshman Kevin Caldwell added 11.

The McKendree defense did stop one Cougar stalwart, as Monte Kuhnert — the only starter back from last year — scored only two points. But Hall scored and continued to be SIUE's top rebounder with a game-high 10 rebounds.

"Jesse is beginning to show his vast talent," said Graham. "At first, he was a little timid and tentative in his play. But now he's beginning to show me what he is capable of doing. He is going to be a standout for us."

The Cougars' only home game in December is next Saturday against NCAA Division II champion Kentucky Wesleyan.

Dennis Barnidge

Maybe quake will shake up Redbirds

It's dark down here. Cold, too. And throw in miserable for good measure.

Just like the Cardinals' front office.

Guess this earthquake business is getting to me. You spend 48 hours getting to halftime of the great earthquake watch in my basement with my kids and you get a little stanky, too. I'm trying not to be that way. In fact, I'm trying to look on the positive side. I'm trying, but it's not easy and it's getting tougher by the minute. At this point I'm almost ready for a little tremor just to have something happen.

I came down here with the idea of putting my feet up, drinking bottled water, eating Hi-Hos and staying out of the way of anything that might happen to fall through the ceiling, like, say, the roof.

If I got out of this alive I figured I'd be in love with everything. If it was standing, I'd hug it. If it was falling, I'd kiss it.

The Cardinals? Forget that even sitting down here in the gray was my idea of life. I'm tired of Cardinals baseball. If we get out of this, they'll be the best damned team on the planet! As for the Cardinals, I wonder from Fred Kuhlmann to season-ticket holders explaining the new scorched-earth policy on free agents, I consider it a show of concern. Bravo! And thank you, Todd Zelle at this base?

Great idea! What if he plays third-base like Marcel Marceau dodging tuna shot from a cannon. Can't wait to see him again. And that outfield of Bernard Gilkey, Ray Lankford and Felix Jose? Who needs stolen-base kings or batting champs? Bring on the '90s. We've got the outfield. Speed, power and acne. And that infield of intake and send out there for 162 games. The '27 Yankees were young once, too.

I live in the basement and I couldn't wait to run up the stairs, grab the checkbook and re-ent as a season-ticket holder. Fun at St. Louis old ball yard. (See BARNIDGE, Page 4B)

Brett Bjorkman

Bill Aleksandrian

Two local players star at Drake

Two former Granite City High School standouts recently concluded successful college soccer careers at Drake University in Des Moines, Ia.

Forward Brett Bjorkman finished as the Bulldogs' career leader in goals (21), points (48) and shots (138). The 1987 GCHS graduate, a tri-captain as a senior at Drake, played in 72 of 79 games in his career.

Midfielder Bill Aleksandrian, also a 1987 GCHS grad, missed only two games in his career and is second on Drake's career games played list with 77. He is also second on the career shots list with 78 and tied for third with seven assists.

Both players played in all 22 games for the Bulldogs this year as Drake recorded an 11-3-3 mark and finished second to Wisconsin-Milwaukee in the Big Central Soccer Conference tournament. UWM went on to play in the NCAA Division I tournament.

The Bulldogs were 41-31-7 during Bjorkman's and Aleksandrian's careers, including three winning seasons.

Two other former Warriors saw considerable action for Drake this season. Junior defender Mike Lane started 17 games and scored the winning goal against Quincy on a penalty kick with two minutes left for a 3-2 win. Sophomore defender Brian Bjorkman, Brett's brother, appeared in 17 games and started 12 in his first season on the varsity.

Barnridge

Geez, I can't wait for spring.

That was yesterday.

Today, I've had a chance to think things over and I realize that with the good news, blues, with the business over the Keil Center, with Norm Stewart dodging bullets in Columbia and Lou Henson doing the same in Champaign, with women reporters ogling naked men, with the NFL telling the St. Louis group to shape up and quit shipping tickets out, with all of that and more (Fifth down! Fifth down!), most of the journalism world, at least the small part that lives in St. Louis, hasn't paid the slightest attention to the Cardinals or baseball since the season ended.

Hard to believe in this town. Damned lucky for the Cardinals, too.

There used to be howls when the Cardinals finished first and stood pat. There used to be howls, generally of laughter, at the mention of the Cubs. That's the way it used to be.

Well, don't look now, but the Cardinals finished last and they're standing pat.

And standing pat is a kind of way of describing a team that, in one form or another, has lost or is in the process of losing a reliever, a left fielder, a center fielder and a third baseman. That means kids in the outfield, a catcher at third and Frank DiPino guarding the ramparts of civilization against any lefthanded hitter who happens to come to the plate after the seventh inning.

What are they kidding? Sorry. That's a rhetorical question the way the brewery, Kuhlmann and Dai Maxvill have been running things lately.

Maybe Iben Browning will be right.

Certainly, there seems to be few things around here that could stand a good shake up.

Venice forced East St. Louis into 14 turnovers and held their own on the boards (both teams had 37 rebounds). The Devils held Martez Kirkendoll — the Flyers' best player — to only six points and outbustled East St. Louis to every loose ball.

"This team doesn't rely on offense alone," Harris said. "Our defense turned the trick. We played a sinking 2-2 and challenged their inside shot. Our defense also did a nice job applying full-court pressure on their guards."

Trojans win opener Andre Mays was the top scorer as Madison beat Northwest (Mo.) 89-70 in the season opener. "Our depth is our strength this year," said Madison coach Al Collins. "We dressed 11 players and used them all, 10 in the first half. We got in some foul trouble, but it didn't hurt because of our depth."

Details of Madison's game against Stanton in the Collinsville Shootout on Saturday will appear in Wednesday's Journal. In other action Friday, 28 points from Marvins Jones wasn't enough as the Trojans fell to 1-1 with an 82-58 loss at Collinsville.

Simon sets county meeting

U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, D-Makanda, will host a "town meeting" at the Alton City Hall, beginning a new round of meetings statewide.

The Madison County forum will be Simon's 424th since 1955—more than held by any Illinois senator in history.

Simon has set the meeting for 9:30 a.m. Friday, Dec. 7, in the City Council chambers, Alton City Hall, 101 E. Third St. in Alton.

Town meetings have long been a feature of the Illinois lawmaker's congressional service. The meetings are fast-paced forums keyed to questions from the audience.

For the upcoming series,

Simon is expected to field questions on the federal deficit, the Persian Gulf crisis, catastrophic health insurance, affordable housing, education, the war on drugs and other issues of concern raised by citizens of Madison County at the meeting.

The Illinois senator says town meetings are "an open channel to the people of Illinois" that helps him stay in close touch with the needs and concerns of his constituents.

"At nearly every meeting, something new comes up. I learn what people are thinking about, about new issues and new suggestions. That's why these meetings are important," Simon said.
